PRISONERS
CAUGHT IN
DASH FOR LIBERTY

Hail of Lead Halts Plan
to Escape From Officer

FLEE OVER STREETS

Fusillade Follows Flight Near Heart of City

With their wrists handcuffed to each other, Frank Edwards, 25 years of age, and Harry Baker, 20 years, both of whom are under charges of burglary, made a dash for freedom
while being taken back to the county jail from the courthouse this morning.
Three shots were fired at the fleeing men by Deputy Sheriff Edward Sweeney, who had the men in custody.
Two of the shots narrowly missed taking effect. The prisoners were overtaken a block away and returned to their cells in the county jail.
Sheriff Barnett believes that the men had pre-arranged their escape, and that they had a confederate awaiting them among the number of the lower Washington street or along the waterfront, who held an automobile in readiness to further their dash for freedom.
Baker and Edwards were arrested
in Alameda on charges of burglary.
They had been before Superior Judge
J. J. Trabucco in the criminal department and had their cases continued
for one week.
After leaving the courtroom
in charge of Deputy Sweeney, and going out of the southwest door leading into the courtyard adjacent to the side entrance to the county jail, they showed haste in going down the steps.
Deputy Sweeney was close behind them, but as they turned the corner
they broke into a run. Sweeney gave pursuit and fired a shot into the air
to attract attention. This did not halt
the men and they continued their dash
into Washington street, where they turned south.
Confronted there by a number of men and closely heeled by Sweeney,
who had fired two more shots as they again turned a corner, they halted and
submitted to being led back to jail.
Baker, according to the sheriff, has a criminal record in Eastern cities,
and is a desperate character. Edwards, his junior, is believed to have a record elsewhere.
After the attempt to escape, neither
of the prisoners would discuss the episode.

Robber Works as Maids on Blazing
Float Are Saved

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Automobile bandits shot one victim
and robbed two, and eleven
young women, in the filmy rain-ment of Greek goddesses, barely escaped injury in a fire which destroyed one of the floats during an electrical pageant last night.
The stream of a fire-extinguisher
temporarily blinded William Pro-
thacker, who was helping to rescue
the girls.
Directly afterward a highwayman
using a motor car, held up Oscar Hilbrandt, who did not heed the cry to halt and received a bullet in the right thigh. J. H. Franklin and Miss Sarah Wise were next held up and forced to surrender $29, after which the bandit escaped.

HURLS BRICK
AIMED AT CHIEF

An attempt to attack Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen was renewed last night, when a brick was hurled
at the window of his office in the city hall. The office was lighted at the time, and it is apparent that the man who hurled the missile thought that the chief had returned from his Eastern trip. Some weeks ago a rotten egg was thrown at the window of the chief's office, but it landed on the ceiling. An investigation was made at the time, but nothing was discovered
as to the identity of the secret enemy.
Several anonymous letters making threats against Chief Petersen have been received from time to time and the detectives have attempted to trace these to the writers. They have been unable to do so.
The missile thrown last night smashed
a plate glass over three-eighths of an inch in thickness. The glass broken was in a square transom just over the window. A mistake was made by the man who made the attack, as the window struck in an ante-room to the private office of the chief occupied by Sergeant Joseph Havens.
Havens had been down to work, but
was not in the office when the brick was thrown. An investigation was started immediately; it was learned that an attempt had been made to hurl a missile through the window, but
no trace of the thrower was found.

PIONEER BANKER IS SUDDENLY CALLED

L. C. Morehouse of San Leandro Dies of Heart Trouble at 81 Years

L. C. Morehouse, one of the oldest residents of Alameda county, wealthy banker and business man, and a former deputy under Sheriff Harry Morse
in the famous early days of Spanish and Mexican banditry, died at 11 o'clock this morning at his home in San Leandro. He was 81 years of age. Heart trouble and a complication of diseases due to advanced age were
the causes of death.
His brother, Albert Morehouse, who resided with him, has been near death
for the past month, and was but yesterday reported to have passed the crisis of his illness and to be convalescent. The shock of his brother's death caused him to suffer a relapse.
Morehouse was born in Onondaga county, New York, in December of 1834. As a young man of 28
years, in 1862, he crossed the plains
in an oxcart to seek his fortune in the mining of California county. He later went to Stockton, where he remained for a year, coming to San Leandro in 1863, where he resided until his death,
excepting for a visit to his former home in Chicago.
EARLY YEARS ACTIVE.
He engaged in various business enterprises during the early years of his life in San Leandro. He was in the insurance business for some time, later
ventured into the real estate business and engaged in various brokerage enterprises. After a five-years' residence in San Leandro he made the long journey across the plains back to his illinois home to wed the sweetheart of his boyhood days, Miss Marian Jewett,
who crossed the plains with him in an ox cart.
It was as a deputy under the famous Harry Morse that Morehouse gained an enviable reputation as a man of bravery and reliability. It was during Morse's administration that the numberous bandit hordes, which infested this part of the state were run down and dispersed.
To accomplish the work of ridding
the country of the bandits, Morse had
a force of his best and call for raids,
some of which took them hundreds
of miles from home and consumed weeks of time. Morehouse, through his bravery, soon acquired the reputation of being the coolest man under fire of all the deputies under Morse.
FOUGHT THIEVES.
Morehouse participated in many famous battles with the horse thieves. One of his greatest feats was his work in the battle which resulted in the death of Joaquin Murietta, known in history as the worst desperado that ever infested
the central part of California in the early days. Morehouse also participated in the capture of the notorious Vasquez, who,
with his band of desperadoes, led the peace authorities through many miles of desert and three fierce battles in which many were killed and scores were seriously wounded.
Morehouse retired from this hazardous career with the disappearance of the last of the horse thieves. He held public office on but one other occasion. Up to 25 years ago he was a member of the State Board of Equalization, on which he served for 16 years.
He was chairman of that body for the majority of the years which he served.
Morehouse was one of the most prominent bankers in the central part of the state. He was vice-president of the First National Bank of Oakland, and had been for many years. He was also president of the First National Bank of San Leandro, and as well as president of the Bank
of San Leandro, an institution which he founded.
Morehouse leaves no children. He was a widower, his wife having died ten years ago. Besides his brother, he leaves a sister, who resides in Los Angeles, but who was at his bedside at the time of his death.
The aged banker had been ailing for several weeks but was thought to be on the road to recovery, as he told his sister last night that he felt better.
For the first time since his illness he was up in bed last evening and took a short walk in the morning. He was reported to be resting easily, but shortly before 9 o'clock he began to feel uncomfortable, which ended in death shortly after 11 o'clock. His surviving brother and sister are Albert Morehouse
and Mrs. Olive Morehouse nee Hooker of Los Angeles.

WILSON'S ANSWER
TO KAISER READY

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—After two hours' discussion of the note to Germany at the cabinet meeting today, Secretary Tumulty,
at the direction of President Wilson, made this announcement:
"The note was gone over and discussed and put in final form. It probably will go forward to Berlin tomorrow."
The cabinet members uniformly refused to discuss it.
It was learned definitely that only a few changes in phraseology were made at the Cabinet meeting. The note was taken up in the form in which it came after Secretary Bryan had spent several hours on it after his conference yesterday with the President. Secretary Bryan went to luncheon with the other members today.
Cabinet members said that, while possibly a few words might be changed, it would go forward to Berlin in practically the form agreed upon at today's meeting.
The President explained that there had been no delay of any kind in the preparation of the note, that he had brought only a rough draft of it to the cabinet meeting Friday and that there has been many suggestions
since the cabinet last met. The general character of the document, however, he said, had not been modified
and he believed it had the approval of the entire cabinet. No one has held up the note, the President emphasized, work on it being as expedient as was consistent with carefulness.
CONTENTS KEPT SECRET.
The President today gave no inkling
of its contents, believing that forecasts might set up a misconception
abroad of the American position.
The arrival of the note from Germany offering to pay for the attack
on the Lusitania and asking for further information concerning the dropping of bombs on the coasting
ships was referred by the President as not unsatisfactory.
The President said he had learned only through the newspapers of the mission of Van Geldemeester, who arrived here in the interest of neutral mediation in the European war. The President added, however, individual officials might have information
concerning Geldemeester's trip here.
When the cabinet assembled to discuss the note Secretary Bryan was not among the number. He remained at his office at the state department,
closeted with Counselor Lansing, and sent word to the President that he was detained by important work.
Bryan, however, has conferred frequently with the President while the note has been under construction.

BIGGEST CROP OF WHEAT IN SIGHT

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—The greatest wheat crop the country ever has known
is in prospect for the coming harvest.
In its forecast today, based on the condition of winter and spring wheat
on June 1, the federal crop reporting
board places the prospective wheat crop
at 550,000,000 bushels, which would ac-
ceed last year's record crop by 59,000,000 bushels. With continued good growing conditions the crop might reach a billion bushels.
Of the great wheat crop the bulk is
from winter wheat planted last fall on the greatest acreage ever sown. The yield of that class of wheat is placed at 576,000,000 bushels which would be 3,000,-
000 bushels under last year's record crop.
Of spring wheat 274,000,000 bushels are forecast. That amount would be 58,000,- 000 bushels under the record crop of 1912, but greater, however, than last year and the year before.
Oats planted this spring was on the greatest area ever sown to that crop
exceeding last year's area by almost two million acres. The forecast of the oats crop places it at 1,248,000,000 bushels,
which is more than harvested last year
or in 1913, but 130,000,000 bushels less than the record crop of 1912.
The barley crop, from present indications, will be second in point of size with 191,000,000 bushels which would be 25,000,-
000 bushels less than the 1912 record
crop, but more than grown last year or in 1913.

King of Greeks
Suddenly Worse

By Associated Press.
ROME, June 8, via Paris, 2:15 p. m.—The Messagero has received a new dispatch from Athens, saying the condition of King Constantine of Greece suddenly has become very grave.
By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 8.—On a dispatch
from Athens, dated Monday, Reuter's correspondent says concerning the condition of King Constantine:
"A bulletin issued at 8 o'clock this morning says that the king's wound
appears to be slightly better, but that the monarch passed a disturbed night
and had little sleep. Repeated attacks of vomiting prevented the king
from retaining nourishment. His general condition, however, was relatively good."
"At noon today the patient's temperature was 99.5."
This was the most encouraging
news heard by the legation since the king became critically ill. Confidence was expressed by officials that since his majesty's temperature had been reduced virtually to normal, the crisis
must have been passed.

Hayward to Plant
150,000 Young Trout

Starting at 10:05 o'clock tomorrow
morning, Hayward will be a true fisherman's paradise. Fred D. Hoyt, deputy fish and game commissioner, announced
today that at that time the state fish
car will arrive in Hayward with 150,000
young trout, which are to be planted in the various streams about the town.
This task will require twenty-five automobiles and fifty men, who will work
all day. This is to be the largest planting of young trout ever held in any one
city or town anywhere, the officials say.

Anti-Carranza Leaders

lery and Trains

Nothing Left But Body Guards; Pair Said to Be in Full Retreat

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—Carranza officials here today received a telegram from General
Obregon, in Leon, approximating
Villa's dead, wounded and captured at 10,000. Villa and Angeles, he says, have only small bodyguards with them. He made no mention of injury to himself. From Vera Cruz, Carranza dispatches say General
Gonzales is continuing his march to Mexico City.

OBREGON CONFIRMS STORY.
NEW YORK, June 8.—General Alvaro Obregon, in a dispatch received today by F. S. Elias, Carranza consul general here, gives details of the battle of Leon, in which he claims to have signally defeated Generals Villa
and Angeles. General Obregon reports that the casualty list of the Villa forces is more than 10,000 men
and that he has established his headquarters in Leon. The dispatch,
dated from Leon, via Vera Cruz, June 8, follows:
"I have occupied new headquarters in the city of Leon. We are in pursuit of the enemy, who are demoralized from their defeat of yesterday. While it is impossible to give the exact number of dead,
wounded and captured, I should expect that the number will reach more than 10,000. Every piece of artillery and all of Villa's
trains are in our hands."
"This battle means the end of Generals Carranza and Angeles' revolt. Both are retreating with small bodyguards to the north."
"Artillery was sent from here
to General Gonzales to assist the advance on Mexico City, which place is expected to be occupied
before the end of this week."

AGUA PRIETA SAFE,
SAYS MAYTORENA

By Associated Press.
DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 8.—Jose
Maytorena, Villa leader in Sonora, has promised the United States not to attack Agua Prieta, the Mexican town opposite here, according to information made public here today.
The statement was in reply to a warning given Villa commanders now in Mexico to retreat and to stop danger-ing lives and property on the American side of the boundary. It is Maytorena's plan to keep General Elias Calles, Carranza chieftain, bottled up in Agua Prieta in order to prevent him deriving revenues from Mexico
exports or sailing out to raid Maytorena's posts.

bility of the occupation of Leon, State of Guerrero, by General Obregon on the attitude of Venustiano Carranza and Francisco Villa toward President Wilson's warning, was regarded here as the most significant feature of the recent changes along the battle front. It believed that the last two months has resulted in the retirement of Villa forces
from Culiacan, State of Sinaloa, northward to La Goe, State of Jalisco, approxi-

Saturday providing for the payment of some claims for cotton seized by the government during the Civil War, Mr. and Mrs. T. J.

niversary yesterday that was truly

PLOT TO HIDE
'OPIUM RING'
WITNESS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—What would appear to be a deliberate plot
to kidnap Grover Pickler, former keeper of an opium den at 7 Quincy place and an important witness in connection with the charges against inspectors of the state pharmacy
board, and take him out of the city
was one of the important developments of the day. Added to this was the statement by Chief Inspector Frederick Sutherland that the mysterious "Malcolm," who signed his name to a telegram found in the possession of Sue Chung Kee, another witness, and containing an incriminating statement, was none other than Inspector Samuel Scott.
Sue Chung Kee was present this morning, but was not called as a witness at the hearing by reason of the absence of an interpreter. Instead there was placed on the stand Edward Off, a member of the state board of pharmacy for ten years and
chairman of the legal and complaint
committee. Pickler, who yesterday gave such damaging evidence as to the payment of hush money and bribes, gave information today of what he characterized as a deliberate
attempt to get him out of town.
He stated that on Saturday, when he arrived from Bakersfield, he went to the Delevan apartment to obtain a room. He could not get accommodations and went to the Hotel North Later, that same night, he returned to the Delevan and declares that the landlady said to him:
"Pickler," what's the trouble
with you? Two police officers have been here looking for you.
They said they wanted to see you very much and they told me if I knew where you were I should tell them at once. If I were you
I would get out of town. I think you could get a ticket and your expenses if you wanted to go."
"From what she said to me," asserted Pickler, "I inferred that she had been given to understand that I was in possession of the information that they would furnish a ticket in order to get me out of town."

DEMANDS INTERPRETER

Sue Chung Kee demanded an interpreter when brought up from Hanford, although he apparently spoke good English. It was, therefore, late in the session before he could be called. Aside from being expected to testify relative to alleged bribe money paid to Scott, alleged by him to Constable Gard, he will be interrogated regarding a mysterious telegram found in his room when he was arrested for having morphine in his possession. The message reads:
"Disregard wire sent you last night. I will write."
"(Signed) MALCOLM."
This telegram was offered in evidence today and Sutherland declares that Malcolm and Scott are one and the same. Scott was in the habit of using the name as an alias in carrying on his work for the pharmacy
board.
Sutherland detailed last week the finding in the room of Sue Chung Kee, a slip of paper with the words
"S. F. Malcolm, 952 Powell street, apartment 12."
This address was at one time the abode of Scott in San Francisco.
The calling of Edward T. Off, the
chairman of the legal and complaint
committee, was done at the instigation of Sutherland and as a result the details of the start of the investigation
were made public.

HOLD SECRET SESSION

"Sutherland stopped me at the January meeting of the board," said Off,
"and told me he wanted to confer
with the members of the legal and complaint committee. It was the last day of the session. He said he wanted to see the committee on an important matter. He wanted to lay something before it in private. We went to meet at Mr. Macdonald's room in the Sutter Hotel and Mr. Macdonald was substituted as a member of the committee in place of Mr. Sutherland."

SECRETARY
OF STATE
RESIGNS

Withdrawal Is Submis-

No Name of Possible
Successor Is Yet
Mentioned

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.
—Secretary Bryan late
today submitted his resignation to President
Wilson and it was accepted.

It was stated authoritatively that the resignation, which had been under consideration for several days, was accomplished with the utmost good feeling between the Secretary of State and President Wilson.

It resulted from differences of opinion over
the note about to be forwarded to Germany.

It was learned that the Secretary of State's hour of delay in reaching the Cabinet meeting
today was due to time
consumed in the preparation of his letter of resignation.

President Wilson will write Mr. Bryan a letter expressing his appreciation of the services of the resigned Cabinet officer.

Officials have let it be known that Secretary Bryan determined to leave the Cabinet because of his desire not to embarrass the president
by his opposition to the policy of the administration in the foreign situation.

PEACE PARTY IS LARGE IN GERMANY

Holland Diplomat Visits U. S.
After Unofficial Efforts
in Berlin.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Van Obell Geldemeester, son of the religious adviser to Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, has by a brief visit to Washington, after conferences in Berlin with high German officials set in motion such apprehensions in official and diplomatic quarters here about possibility of peace in Europe.

Mr. Geldemeester, it became known today, saw Dr. von Jagow, the German Foreign Secretary, and other members of the Imperial Ministry shortly after the Lusitania was sunk, and received certain impressions concerning the German attitude toward the war and the ultimate managing of peace. With the knowledge, though not with the authority of the German officials, he started for Washington in the hope that informally he could portray German feeling in official quarters. On his arrival here last week he visited Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador. The latter, learning that Mr. Geldemeester had been in Berlin and had been at the German Foreign Office, gave him a letter of introduction setting these facts forth.

HAD NO CREDENTIALS.
The ambassador asked the "Associated Press" last night to emphasize that Mr. Geldemeester carried no credentials from Germany and had absolutely no official connection with his government.

Mr. Geldemeester left Washington Saturday without seeing any prominent officials of the American government. He started on a trip to New York, Chicago and other cities with the idea of convincing the editors of German-American newspapers of the help they can render in promoting more friendly relations between Germany and the United States.

While in Washington the visitor from the Netherlands gave the impression to those with whom he talked that there was a peace party of some importance in Great Britain, as well as in Germany, and that what was most needed at present was a continued pressure by the neutrals for mediation. He intimated to some of his friends that he feared his own country—Holland—might even be drawn into the conflict if it could not be won, but was hopeful that efforts by neutrals to mediate if begun now would be successful.

PEACE ELEMENT LARGE.
Most significant of the impressions which Mr. Geldemeester brought from Berlin, it was said today, was that a large section of the populace and an important element in the German government itself were not in sympathy with the extreme militarists and believe a discussion of peace terms not undesirable.

Just how far Mr. Geldemeester may have been encouraged in Berlin to present his views to the people in the United States is not definitely known. Jane Addams and others interested in peace, who have recently visited Berlin, have been cordially received by high German officials and in German quarters here lately there has been constant reference to the likelihood of peace growing out of the present correspondence concerning neutral rights.

In allied quarters here any talk of peace emanating from Germany is coupled with much circumspection and doubt and the time is regarded as inopportune, with German troops on French, Belgian and Russian soil. It is suggested, too, that peace talk might be designed to divert the attention of the government and people of the United States from the serious issues involved in the sinking of the Lusitania.

Mr. Geldemeester is expected back in Washington in a few days. He may not desire to see officials but to inform himself in other ways on the feeling concerning peace as it would be reflected in the diplomatic and the official quarters of the capital of the largest neutral nation. He plans to return to Europe soon.

ARTILLERY BRIDGE BUILT UPON BODIES OF SLAIN SOLDIERS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 8.—The fiercest fighting of the war, as far as the Balkan provinces of Russia are concerned, occurred a few days ago in a battle for the mastery of the Dubnya river, according to the Post's Petrograd correspondent. The river changed hands five times in one day and at nightfall the stream was completely choked with the bodies of thousands of dead, so that a plank roadway for artillery was laid by the victorious Russians across a solid bridge of bodies, the correspondent says.

The Dubnya, although wide, is so shallow it can be crossed on foot at some places. The Russians and Germans met at a fort half a mile wide north of Rossijny, where they fought all day in the water. There were several bayonet charges in mid-stream and all who fell even though they were only slightly wounded, were drowned. Troops on both sides in their attacks and counterattacks late in the day advanced over the bodies of the dead.

Portland Election Returns Received

By Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—Returns early today from yesterday's municipal election. The second held since the commission form of government, went into effect in Portland two years ago, indicated that George L. Baker and C. A. Bigelow had been elected city commissioners and A. L. Barbur auditor.

Amendments providing for the annexation of the suburban towns of St. Johns and Linnton received good majorities.

Ordinances to close stores on Sundays and provide for municipal garbage collection were defeated.

Washington Told of Passport Scandal

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Ambassador Page has advised the State Department of the circulation in London of stories to the effect that Robert Rosenthal, a German held there as a spy, recently made a confession in which he charged Captain von Frager of the German Admiralty office with having a complete equipment for issuing fraudulent passports. Department officials said today it was presumed the ambassador was investigating and would report later.

Market Street Land Brings Good Price

A realty deal of considerable importance was announced today when deeds were filed for property on Market street, between Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets, which was sold by Patrick A. Cox to E. R. Thompson.

RICH PACKER LEAVES ESTATE TO WIDOW

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The will of the late Joseph P. Haller, wealthy Alaska packer, of 3011 Jackson street, who died on May 31, was filed for probate today. The estate is estimated to be worth a quarter of a million dollars. It is all left to the widow, Rose E. Haller, reliance being placed upon her to provide for the five children. Should she die it is arranged that they shall have share and share alike with the exception of George S. Haller, from whose portion $10,000 is to be subtracted. This sum was given to young Haller during the father's lifetime to enable him to start in business.

CITY DIRECTORY FREAKISH VOLUME

All Sorts of Conditions Shown
by Names Contained in Book.

Of course city directories have been written up in somewhat similar manner before, but at that, there is interest in this sort of a description.

Osmond, Berkeley and Alameda, have a new directory, fresh from the press of The Tribune. It is a neat volume, with many improvements, as compared with previous issues. It is replete with information of reliable character, and the possessor of one of the books has an encyclopedia of local information at hand.

But it is a freakish volume without there are so many contradictions, so many startling situations disclosed. For example, a search of the pages reveals that in Oakland there are three Adams, ten Adamsons, although there are nine Calces but only one Abel is missing, but then that was to have been expected, the first Cain slew him more than 4000 years ago.

It's a religious town, too. There are eighteen churches with seven priests, one Deacon, twenty-nine Deans, many Bishops and four Deacons. Strange to say, however, there are no Members.

But while churches are well represented, there is not a School nor a Teacher.

Musical hath charms here as well as elsewhere, for there are twenty-seven Harpers, although they haven't a Harp; four Pipers, but only a Pipe, although by straining a point they might play on the one Pipe.

Dispositions are varied. Two are Happy, four Jolly, several Gay, ten Love, four Lovejoy, seven Loveland.

But one Sick can be found, and he lives over in Alameda. Sixteen are Strong, two are Weakly, one is Tippen, one is Sizable, there are no Leans, but one is Leaner and three are Light. Perhaps these Lights were intended for the one Lighthouse, but let that pass.

It appears to be a great place for piscatorial sports, for there are twenty-three Fish, six Chubbs, twelve Pike, four Bass, one Trout and one Spratt, and a whole column of Fishers.

It would be a good place to start a monarchy according to the directory, for there are 100 Kings, five Dukes, fifteen Earls and nine Princes, although there is not a Princess on the roster.

Time is measured by twenty-eight Knights and forty Days, also twenty-seven Weeks, but Years are absent.

The allies have all the best of it, for there is but one German, while there are three Englishmen, twenty-two English, thirty-eight French and more than 100 Scots.

There are lots of tollers, for there are twenty-four Weavers, four Carriers, Carpenters, galleys, oodles of Carpenters, Cooks in plenty, Coopers in columns, Gardeners unlimited and Smiths until one cannot rest.

The population is diversified in color. About fifty are Black, three are Blue, there are pages of Brown, scores of Whites, dozens of Green, more Gray, while one is Redd. That age is represented is noted by the presence of nineteen Whiteheads. In this connection it may be stated that three are Old, there is one Oldman, while hundreds are Young and seven are Younger.

Oakland is a regular aviary. There are twenty Birds, seven Wrens, eleven Robins, twenty-one Drakes, one Duck and one Seagull.

Habits are good. Two Drinkwater, although one is Drye and six Dryer, although there are seven Beers. There are but one Wild in the book, although seven are Woolley. Nine are Bold and eleven Leary.

Notwithstanding the fact that baseball fans are supposed to be numerous, only twelve Root; there is one Rohr and three Rohrbach.

One might write until the crack of doom and find something new in the directory, but this ought to be sufficient.

FEARS FOR LIFE; FILES REMARKABLE AFFIDAVIT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Intimating that he fears for his life and that therefore he hesitates to go unattended to an office as directed by the court, Attorney T. S. Minot, who is suing Attorney James P. Sweeney for fees in connection with an oil land suit, filed a remarkable affidavit in the Superior Court today.

Recently Sweeney obtained an order directing Minot to appear on Montgomery street to answer certain questions. In his sworn statement today, placed on record by his attorney, Albert Johnson, nephew of the governor, Minot makes several charges. He asserts that Sweeney's office is in an attic and he is fearful if he goes there he may not get out alive. He states that Sweeney demands the possibility of insult and violence. He intimates strongly that a deadlock has been prepared for him and says that he will go to any other place that the court may direct, where he will be given an even chance.

NOTED DIRECTOR TELLS OF FRANKLIN FILM

Before allying himself with the William Fox forces, Marshall Farnum, the director of Marie Corelli's "Wormwood" who, by the way, is a brother of the famous William Fox star, William Farnum, had produced many celebrated spectacular pictures involving the possession of great directive ability. In "Wormwood," however, with the inestimable resources placed at the disposal of William Fox, he has been able to produce, what he states to be, the master-work of his career. Mr. Farnum has himself been an actor of note and dramatic star of considerable fame, therefore what he has to say on the much discussed subject of the difference between the spot and the silent stage possesses distinct interest.

"Wormwood" will be shown at the Franklin today and Wednesday.

INDICTMENTS DISMISSED; ACCUSED IN SAN QUENTIN

Additional indictments that were pending against Edward C. Wiley, who is serving two years' imprisonment in San Quentin for fraudulent registration last year were dismissed by Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco today upon motion of District Attorney Hynes.

By Associated Press.

Consequently the Swiss government, with the consent of France, is allowing the transit for Lichtenstein of wheat entering French ports. The principality is located between Austria and Switzerland. It has an area of 45 square miles and a population of about 11,000 persons, almost all devoted to agriculture.

GRAFT CLAIM HEARD AT ALBANY

Granting of Saloon License by Council to Precipitate Liquor Election.

ALBANY, June 8.—Open intimation that "someone" had received a "change" and the flat declaration that another wet and dry fight would be precipitated, followed last night's council meeting in which a license was granted to Robert Marj of San Francisco to operate a saloon in the Moore block. The council voted for the license by a vote of three to one. Trustee A. G. Saffor, not voting.

When the case license was granted, Trustee Robert Brown started the fireworks with his declaration: "It looks to me as if someone had been giving out money."

Immediately Mayor Daniels jumped to his feet in anger at the intimation and challenged Brown to produce his evidence and to repeat the statement. "I will repeat the statement at the proper time and before the voters of the community," replied Brown, while members of the dry faction in the council room applauded.

ANOTHER LIQUOR VOTE.

That another wet and dry election is to be called was the declaration of Rev. Hugh Baker of the Third Methodist church, who said:

"We had decided to abide by the last vote and had hoped that the question would not again split our city but, in view of the action in granting this license against what we believe to be the wishes of the majority of our citizens, the matter of wet and dry Albany will have once more to be threshed out."

"We have already voted twice on the matter and in each election you lost by a two to one vote," replied Daniels.

Determined to carry their argument to the electorate the opponents to the license left the chamber to arrange preliminary details for organization. Those voting for the license were Mayor Daniels, Trustee R. F. Tavin and Frank Roberts. Brown voted against it and A. G. Saffor refused to cast a ballot.

Robert Marshall, president of the Oakland Aero Club, is reorganizing the club with the object of building a balloon expected to outdistance any of those which start this evening.

DANCE PERMIT DENIED

An application for permission to hold an all-night dance, June 11, was denied by the city council today to D. Fairchild and J. Randolph, 1705 Pacific street. Acting Chief of Police J. F. Lynch reported that the applicants had conducted a saloon at 1701 Pacific street and wish to hold the dance to increase business at the saloon.

BERKELEY, June 8.—Funeral services were conducted yesterday for Mrs. Mary E. Hodges, a resident of the State for more than 50 years, who died Saturday at the home of her brother John E. Hodges, an early San Francisco attorney who died 40 years ago and lived many years in that city before coming to Berkeley.

THE LADIES' RELIEF HOME.

The strictures of Miss Lillian Mathews, representing the State Board of Control as "investigator," with respect to the Ladies' Relief Home of Oakland, are impertinent to the degree of callousness. They reflect neither a careful investigation of conditions, an intelligent acquaintance with facts, nor a charitable spirit. The whole incident is a bit of grave fault-finding, done in the spirit of sensationalism. Happily the character of the women who conduct the home is a sufficient answer to Miss Mathews. But this is supplemented by the testimony of Dr. Gillihan of the Health Department of the municipal government.

"The children of the home," Dr. Gillihan declares, "have been well taken care of in healthful and sanitary surroundings." He adds:

The home is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, philanthropies in Oakland; is conducted by women who have given without stint years of time and labor, and it is unfair to them and their associates in this work to build up a small and isolated case of alleged mismanagement. The institution's management, The Health Department of Oakland would be foremost in making corrections of any fundamental conditions which tend in the slightest degree to impair the children's welfare, and I make this statement as a matter of fairness and justice to the home's management.

It appears that the "investigator" is a trained sensationalist through association with the least respectable of the San Francisco newspapers. It further appears that her search was to discover not the merits of the institution but for something that she might condemn. In brief, she came to the Relief Society Home in the spirit of a fault-finder and prosecutor and sought to magnify into grave faults certain conditions in no wise serious.

This incident is a characteristic illustration of a woman wholly without sympathy with the work to be done, manifestly ignorant of its conditions and methods. Eager to discover faults and to develop a sensation, under the authority of a petty political appointment, she casts reproach upon a group of people than whom in Oakland or elsewhere there is none more representative of charitable spirit or of social responsibility.

ANOTHER PEACE SOCIETY.

It is reported from New York that ex-President Taft has issued a call for a peace conference to be held in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, on June 17, to consider plans for the formation of an international peace league. The members of the league, we gather, are to be nations rather than individuals. It is proposed that the governments which associate themselves with this movement shall agree to use their joint military forces to prevent any one of their number from going to war with another member of the league before the matter in dispute shall have been submitted to a judicial tribunal or to an international council of conciliation. The conference at Philadelphia has the appearance of being another vain attempt to solve the problems of peace and of war by extended and ineffective resolutions and speeches. The kind of an international league which Mr. Taft proposes could only be formed after months or years of patient effort. It would have to be based upon the successful negotiation of a series of vastly important international treaties, involving new and untried theories in international law. In other words, it is proposed to make the world over to impose peace upon the nations by force.

The conference at Philadelphia will doubtless be a very interesting one and will bring together a number of excellent men of great professional competency and merit. They will enjoy the discussions because they will be dealing with big and impressive subjects. It occurs to us that it is poor policy to strive to seek international peace through so many agencies. There will be too much division of effort; consequently a lack of concentration and effectiveness. It is pretty well established that there can be no considerable progress toward lasting peace among the nations of the world until an agreement which contemplates very considerable reduction of armaments is made and until an international court, competent to settle disputes among nations can be established. These two objects are precise, understandable and clear. It is folly to confuse the issue by advocating subsidiary and supplemental propositions.

There are already several societies formed for the purpose of creating public opinion favorable to establishing an international court. There are also several societies which concern themselves with the matter of the limitation of armaments. Mr. Taft is himself an active member of the foremost society which seeks to bring about the establishment of a court for the judicial determination of disputes between nations, which cannot be settled by ordinary diplomatic methods. In the humble opinion of The Tribune, Mr. Taft's work for the cause of peace will be much more useful if he sticks to the societies already in existence, instead of trying to start a new association and a new movement in Independence Hall of glorious memory.

If the weather is fair on June 10, Alameda County Day at the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be an impressive and notable event. The indications point to a very large attendance from this side of the bay. This will be one of the most interesting and generally observed holidays of the year and it will be an admirable time to see the exposition at its best. All the palaces, buildings and exhibits are now open, the charming French exhibit having been formally dedicated a few days ago. The Panama-Pacific Exposition will never appear at better advantage than it does this week. Those who have not been to see it should take advantage of the unusual opportunities afforded by Alameda County day and those who have been should go again.

It is difficult to conceive the sort of character that goes about poisoning dogs, evidently with the hope of the thing. Most dogs are so adorable in their qualities that not all human beings can be favorably compared with them. However low we may fall, it is never so low that our dog refuses to follow us or ceases to love us. Benicia has lost many of its fine dogs lately through the operations of unknown poisoners. If Benicia has a star a piece and can catch these parties, it might be a good idea to string them up to it.

"IN DEFENSE OF THE UNION."

We printed in The Tribune a day or two ago some very interesting interviews with a number of widely known members of Congress who have been visiting the Hawaiian Islands and a number of points on the Pacific Coast. All the Congressmen of importance who have been to Honolulu and who have looked over the situation in California, are impressed with the necessity of strengthening our coast fortifications and of adding to the size and efficiency of the navy. Senator Overman, who is the administration leader in the Senate said:

"Our navy is good, but I think it should be increased. Our fortifications should be amplified and strengthened. Our submarine fleet should be greatly augmented, for the present European war has proven the value of submarines in naval warfare and has questioned, though not disproved, the efficacy of battleships.

"We must increase the supply of military aeroplanes—no question about that. And I should like to see some plan evolved for the creation of a motor transportation force. This latter is a necessary unit of modern military equipment, and the United States cannot afford to be behind other nations or any potential enemy in at least having a nucleus upon which to build an efficient war organization if required.

"I am not for a great military nation—I don't think many of us are for that—but I am for armament for peace. The greatest nation of the earth should be prepared to defend its honor if necessary."

Senator Overman very properly lays stress upon the pressing necessity of adding to the number of our submarine fleet. He has been studying the developments of the present European war and is convinced that one of the most important weapons for the defense of our harbors and coast will be found in the submarine. A dozen or more Congressmen spoke in a similar vein and Uncle Joe Cannon touched delicately upon the interesting and fruitful problem of general military service. He believes, as do thousands of other thoughtful men, that we cannot lay the foundation for a large and useful military force unless the young men in this country are given some military training. Said he:

"In my opinion it is entirely practicable, at an expense of from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 a year to supply patriotic young men who are supporting themselves with the proper uniforms, arms and subsistence, and give them a small compensation, and in a year's time create a reserve of 500,000 or 1,000,000 men. They would have the proper training to make good soldiers if their services as such were needed. This first reserve might be succeeded every five years by another 500,000 or 1,000,000 men.

"In addition to this, preparedness requires a more efficient navy and the proper fortification of Pearl Harbor, which, in common with the great commercial centers along our coast lines, cannot be efficiently defended without an efficient navy, as well as an efficient army.

"Attaining military efficiency will not only make us adequately strong in case of war, but will be equal to an insurance policy against war."

We think the suggestion put forth by Mr. Cannon in a rather vague and general way is one that in the future will attract deep attention and receive the most animated and earnest discussion in this country. There is unquestionably a growing feeling in the United States favorable to the idea of having the young men of the nation serve from six months to a year in the army. This feeling is not crystallized and is not well formulated but it is active and it is growing.

AMERICAN CITIZENS.

Supreme Court Justice Whitaker of New York City, in ruling in favor of a moving picture theater that had been "censored," made this observation:

What has lately become known as hyphenated citizenship has no color or standing. It cannot properly be recognized by the court or any other branch of the Government. The term "American" includes all classes of citizenship, native and naturalized, irrespective of where they originally came from.

It so happened that the case in Justice Whitaker's court was based on the allegation that a film which the theater purposed to show was offensive to the German-American citizens. In lifting the hyphen from citizenship the judge did not confine himself to American citizens of German origin. The principle laid down applies to those heretofore referred to as Irish-Americans, British-Americans, French-Americans, Italian-Americans—our citizenry of every foreign blood. The residents of this country are of two classes, citizens of the United States and aliens. Judicially they cannot be recognized different standards of duties, of prerogatives or of consideration for citizens.

The extreme destitution of Edouard de Reszke, the great singer, who is living in a cellar in Paris, furnishes another flash of light upon the terrible changes and devastation the war has wrought. From an estate of millions the great artist is reduced to nothing, a pitiful figure in his old age, possessing only memories. With part of his fortune already gone, the war in Europe robbed him quickly of the rest. Doubtless Paris will take care of him because Paris has always loved genius. It is for the reason that his story points to the infinitely sadder story of Poland, his country, completely ruined by the warfare waged over it, that we take occasion to review it here. If such is the circumstances of a Polish nobleman, then consider for an instant the condition of the Polish peasant.

At their reunion to be held in San Rafael, Irish-Americans will wear a new variety of shamrock produced in California. Is it a bit of blarney they are giving us, or do they "railey mane" it? Irish-Americans do not need to prove their loyalty in this way. There is no one loves the Irish-grown shamrock more than ourselves. Yet we are mighty glad for an unusual reason. If California will grow shamrock that will suit the Irish, then it will grow anything under the sun.

It has taken the government of San Francisco four months to find a way to regulate and suppress the noisy and offensive hotel runners and cab drivers at the Ferry building station. This is a very salient instance of some of the disadvantages of a too democratic form of government.

The train at San Diego into which Uncle Joe Cannon introduced his cigar objected temporarily, it is reported. Railroad companies should by this time understand that when "Uncle Joe" buys a ticket it includes his cigar, that being an inseparable and picturesque part of him.

Edward O. Toner, chairman, and Paul J. Haynes, secretary of the Progressive State Central Committee of Indiana, have resigned from that organization and announced that they will return to the Republican party. There is still left Victor Mardock of Kansas.

SCHOOL VACATION IS NOT YET DETERMINED.
ALAMEDA, June 8.—The length of the vacation in the Alameda city schools is still a matter of conjecture. Many inquiries have been made by residents who are desirous of knowing their annual vacation in accordance with the period of the school vacation. The hitch is the result of the fact that the governor has taken no action on the bill which will determine whether school can be opened in July or August for the fall term.

LIQUOR DEALER DEFENDS ALCOHOL

Relieves More Misery Than It Causes, Makes for Efficiency His Argument.

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, June 8.—The solution of what is commonly called the liquor question depends upon what we consider the problem to be, said Samuel Woolner of Peoria, Ill., president of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association at the opening session today of that organization. "The prohibitionists," continued Mr. Woolner, "would have us believe that the abatement of the legitimate manufacture and sale of liquor would remove entirely the demand and stop drinking absolutely. That the nation would be much better off and that the individual living in this protected and protected atmosphere would be happy and contented, more efficient and of more use to the community, longer lived, stronger minded, that it would minimize murder and crime of all sorts, remove the cause of poverty, and in fact, do away with alms-houses, jails and insane asylums, and asylums for the feeble-minded."

"The persons engaged in the liquor business contend they are doing a good thing, a want and a need, that the demand is here, otherwise there would be no supply; that the people have an unalienable and inborn and God-given right to their product; that it relieves more misery than it causes; that it produces more joy than sorrow; that it adds to the efficiency instead of taking away from it; that it is a tonic for the body, producing stronger and healthier minds, which is a greater preventive of crime of all kinds and causes a lesser demand for institutions such as jails and hospitals for the insane, and that, in fact, there would be required under prohibition or total abstinence."

CRIPPLED BY ACCIDENT, BUS DRIVER ENDS LIFE

Crippled by an accident which so injured his arm that he was unable to drive an automobile, Joseph T. Lynch, a jitney bus driver, committed suicide at his home 578 Shafter avenue, last night. The body was found by his wife in the kitchen when she returned home from visiting some friends. Lynch had inhaled gas from the cook stove.

Lynch had two notes, one, a will, bequeathing his property to his wife Emma and the other a pathetic letter addressed to her and stating that he could not endure being a burden upon her. The note read in part as follows:

"My Dearest Emma: I cannot stand it any longer, so am saying goodbye. My hand and arm are of no use and I don't wish to drag you down any longer. I crippled myself that others might get the benefit of my labor. Little girl, I am not able to work and cannot bear to see you suffer. Try your best to forgive me. Uncle Wiggily and Aunt Flippity-Flop

By HOWARD H. GARIS

Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Hoo-ooh! Uncle Wiggily!" called a cawing voice outside the hollow stump bungalow, where the rabbit gentleman was staying with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper. "Hoo-ooh! Uncle Wiggily!"

"Well, where are you going?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"To the store to get a round coconut for a coconut cake," replied Aunt Flippity-Flop. "And where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?"

"To the store to get some molasses for a molasses cake," he replied. "Let's go together."

So they did, but as the molasses store was on one woodland path, and the coconut store (kept by a monkey-doodle gentleman, on another path) was on another, Aunt Flippity-Flop soon started.

"I'll see you again on the way home," said the rabbit gentleman. "Yes, do," begged the crow lady. Then, with his jug full of molasses on his paw, Uncle Wiggily went on his way home again, and in a little while he met Aunt Flippity-Flop once more. But how strangely the crow lady was acting!

She would hop on a little way, and then she would fall down. Then she would get up, and toddle over sideways, and, no sooner had she straightened up than she would turn a front somersault. Then, a little later, she would do a back somersault.

"Why, whatever is the matter, Aunt Flippity-Flop?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, it's this round coconut I am carrying in my basket," said the crow lady, "it rolls from side to side and overbalances me so I can't walk straight."

"Why don't you fly then?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"That would be worse, I fear," said Aunt Flippity-Flop. She tried it, and it was. The coconut rolled around in the basket, and over her tail feathers.

You see Aunt Flippity-Flop was so delicate that the least little thing, like too much butter on one side of her slice of jam, made her top-heavy, and over she would tumble. And, of course, a rolling coconut in a basket was worse.

"Oh, dear!" she cawed. "I'll never be able to get back to the nest with this coconut."

"Oh, yes you will," Uncle Wiggily said. "I'll take the coconut." So the rabbit gentleman put some sticky molasses in the bottom of the crow lady's basket. That held the coconut from rolling, just as flypaper would. And when the round nut did not roll any more, Aunt Flippity-Flop could hop along very nicely, without being overbalanced and falling.

So she thanked Uncle Wiggily and was soon safely home, and he was too, with his molasses. And if the staidish don't twinkle in the night, and awaken the pieces of cheese in the bird cake, I'll tell you next about Jimmie Caw-Caw's trick.

MENDELSSOHN'S "ELIJAH" FOR BAPTIST UNION

A festival performance of Mendelssohn's dramatic oratorio, "Elijah," will be given in the Municipal Auditorium during the first week of July by the Alameda County 1915 chorus of 350 voices, under the direction of Alexander Stewart. A symphony orchestra of 50 players, with a number of well-known local soloists will make this a notable event in choral music. The concert is to be part of the program of the international convention of the Young People's Baptist Union, which is to be held in this city July 7 to 12. It will be given under the joint auspices of the Alameda County 1915 chorus, the Oakland Rotary Club and the Baptist Young People's Union.

THE PLAY SPIRIT

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell

LILLIAN RUSSELL

EDUCATORS long ago recognized the advantage of utilizing the spirit of play—which is so manifest in boys and girls—in devising their educational systems. They discovered that children would readily play their way through primary grades with better results than through the conventional systems. This spirit is worthy of cultivation. The world is governed by it, I believe, are the ones who enjoy the best health and shine as attractive members of society.

That governing spirit lightens life's burdens and makes work easier. It will lead the women to exercise and lead lives which are wholesome and healthful.

It seems to me that this play spirit should enter to a large degree into women's leisure hours and the periods they devote to themselves. It will suggest the lightness of touch, the grace and beauty. It will lead them into the open for tennis and other games, as well as for walks and even romps with children. All this will be to their advantage.

If you look upon exercise as an arduous duty, you will probably neglect it or go through with it in a perfunctory way, which will not be productive of desirable results. But, if you are inspired by the spirit of play, you will actually enjoy exercise of all kinds and the periods devoted to them will become the most welcome of the day.

Life, of course, has its serious side, but it is really a two-sided proposition after all. Every woman should have her lighter moments, when the serious things can be temporarily forgotten. It is the play spirit which will provide such periods and strengthen her when she confronts life's more serious side. Best of all, it will encourage her in those periods when she enters a new and tend to develop beauty and strength.

Do not unduly suppress the play spirit when you feel it rising within you. It is an evidence of youth which will inspire wholesome living and a desire for health giving exercise.

Remember: Do not separate yourself so far from youth that you lose your acquaintance with the play spirit and undertake everything as a serious proposition for an arduous duty.

STAMPS ON SLIPPERS CAUSE OF LAUGHTER WHEN GUEST EXPLAINS REASON

At a dinner in Oakland a few nights since the guest of honor from Buenos Aires was charmingly gowned. A soft champagne-colored slipper was matched by satin slippers of the same old shade. It was after dinner that the guests noted the odd decoration.

The guest of honor danced and on the heels of her slippers were revealed small green squares that looked like stamps. A fall of fashion in the south American lands, they surmised. But when continued scrutiny discovered that they were stamps, the guest of honor was asked why she wore them.

"Stamps?" she repeated. "Are there stamps on my slippers?" Then she remembered, and, in a gleam of laughter, she explained. The slippers had been bought in Brazil. It hadn't been possible to match her gown in Buenos Aires, so when the steamer bound for New York stopped at Rio Janeiro she tried the shoe shops there, and found them. A Christian of fashion in the south American lands, they surmised. But when continued scrutiny discovered that they were stamps, the guest of honor was asked why she wore them.

WIDOW WANTS TO CARE FOR BROTHER, MIDDY BLAMED FOR BROADWAY SCORES ACADEMY SCANDAL SENSATIONAL HIT

Avers That Aged Man Is Not Properly Housed With Distant Relatives.

Efforts on the part of Mrs. Fanny Schofield to be appointed guardian of her aged and wealthy brother, Thomas H. Hurick of 2211 Lawton street, did not make much progress when she obtained a hearing before Superior Judge Wells today.

It developed that the elderly widow of a prominent Knoxville, Tenn., doctor had come to Oakland upon her own initiative and not upon the request of her brother to care for him three months ago. She objected when Hurick was taken into the home of Charles E. Folsom, a distant relative, and declared that he had been "kidnaped" while under the influence of medicine.

It developed today that Mrs. Schofield had sought to ease her brother's mind by reading to him the sick service of religious books. The Folsoms claimed that she had also read him the burial service, but this she denied.

Mrs. Schofield said that since the death of her brother's wife the Folsoms had "put on airs," wearing diamonds, jewelry, and playing tennis, and that she "could not forgive them for having gone to her poor sister's safe an hour after her death."

The witness also testified that the reason she wanted to be appointed guardian was because she did not think that her brother was receiving the right kind of medical treatment. She said that she preferred the services of a woman physician of San Francisco whose father had been a physician. Inquiry by Judge Wells developed that the physician in question was the daughter of a wine grower who had never studied medicine.

It also came out that Hurick himself objected to the attention of his sister and from investigation of Judge Wells that he was being cared for properly and enjoying himself in the Folsom home.

The matter was continued for the purpose of obtaining certain letters to place in evidence.

Rear-Admiral Testifies That Recalcitrant Is Backed by Three Congressmen.

By Associated Press. ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 8.—Rear-Admiral William Fullam, superintendent of the Naval Academy, who resumed his testimony today before the naval court of inquiry appointed by Secretary Daniels to investigate charges of irregularities in examinations at the academy, declared to the court that Midshipman James B. Moss of Annapolis was the man primarily responsible for the whole scandal of irregularities in connection with the last annual examination.

Midshipman Moss, the admiral asserted, was being supported in his plea for clemency by two United States Senators, a representative in Congress and two lawyers. If such persons were permitted to control in such a case, it would not be possible to maintain a standard of discipline.

The admiral said that he regretted very much to have to testify concerning a conversation with Robert Moss, father of Midshipman Moss, and a member of counsel for the accused midshipman, which compelled him to mention the name of a naval officer.

"Mr. Moss told me," said Admiral Fullam, "that Surgeon McDowell, whom he (Moss) defended in a civil case, had assured Moss that he would look out for his son."

Moss had told the admiral he did not wish to make charges against McDowell or anyone else, but he expressed the belief that the papers claimed to have been received by Midshipman Moss from an anonymous source were sent to his son by some officer. Surgeon McDowell, the admiral said, was mentioned in that connection.

Everybody is talking about the remarkable program being presented at the Broadway theater, absolutely the greatest show in the world for the money.

In the continuous laugh-fest, "The Floppers," the comedy tabloid being presented this week, Roy Clair and his sixteen players have again won instant popularity. The tabloid is clean and witty, the action fast and snappy. It's a sure cure for love melancholia.

There is a new voice in America, Miller & Miller, with a dainty acrobatic act; Morton and the Jewels, with songs, dances and clubbing; Bill Kin Kard king of Scotch novelty artists, and several reels of Keystone comedy.

That's what you get for 10 and 15 cents at the Broadway. Is it any wonder people have acquired the "Broadway habit" of dropping in every week?

Miss Lottie Horner, the pretty ingenue of the Clair players, will return to the company next week after a serious illness.—Advertisement.

LONGSHOREMEN ASK WAGE RAISE

Shipping Men and Heads of Union in Conference
at Seattle.

By Associated Press.
SEATTLE, June 8.—The International Longshoremen's Association and leading shipping men of the coast are in conference here over the workmen's demand for a uniform and high wage scale on the whole coast and installation of safety appliances for handling cargoes. The increase requested would amount to 12 per cent in Seattle.

The longshoremen's demands were formulated at the Pacific Coast district convention in Vancouver thirteen months ago. The shipping business was then greatly depressed and the demands were held in abeyance. With the revival of business and record-breaking charter rates, the men have renewed their demands.

The longshoremen are represented by their international president, Thomas Connor, Buffalo, and secretary-treasurer, J. A. Madden of the Pacific district of Portland, Ore.

Among the shipping men attending are J. H. Bennett of San Francisco, vice-president of the Yale-Harvard Line, E. C. Ward of San Francisco, manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; Captain J. A. Gibson of Seattle, manager of the International Stevedoring Association; C. W. Coates of San Francisco, head of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company; and J. W. Wells of Portland, agent for the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company.

COUNCIL REFERS NEW BUILDING LAW

Amended Ordinance Passed as a Whole to Oakland Chapter of Architects.

The City Council here today referred to the first of 125 sections of the amended building ordinance which Commissioner E. C. Turner wants to see passed before he leaves office. No objection was raised, excepting that the amendments as a whole were referred to the Oakland chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

C. W. Dickey, president of the Oakland chapter, was present at the council meeting today and stated that every time he had drawn an imaginary set of plans and specifications to test out some clause in the ordinance, he had found something to criticize.

Dickey's views of the new ordinance are apparently those of the Oakland Builders and Contractors' Association. This body went over the proposed changes and let a call "N.Y." after just a number of them.

Representatives of the sheet metal workers also found fault with the ordinance. One clause provides that patent chimneys must be not less than eight inches across as a minimum. The sheet metal workers believe that six inches would be large enough, and that the extra two inches make the chimneys too expensive. This matter was referred to Building Inspector John F. Towle.

Commissioners Harry S. Anderson and W. J. Baccus were rather inclined to oppose the attempt to settle the 125 controversies, and suggested putting the matter over until after July 1st. It is probable that their wishes will be automatically carried into effect, as the progress made today indicates that agreement may not be reached even during the administration of John L. Davis, but will extend over his four years to a subsequent administration.

SLEUTHS ON TRAIL OF ELOPING PAIR

Will Go East to Bring Back
Mrs. Molera and Frank Terramorse.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The hard-boiled sleuths of the San Francisco police department are on the trail of a pair of elopers who have been missing for several days. The pair are Mrs. J. R. Molera and Frank Terramorse, who were last seen in New York City, in last fall, about a week ago. They were on their return trip to San Francisco to answer to the police.

Nor will their return be easy, for the police department is now on the trail of the pair. They were last seen in New York City, in last fall, about a week ago. They were on their return trip to San Francisco to answer to the police.

Extradition papers for Terramorse and Mrs. Molera will be issued today by Governor Johnson, and delivered to Detective Sergeants Henry N. Powell and Frank E. O'Brien, who will leave this morning for New York, stopping over in Sacramento long enough to secure the necessary documents of extradition.

In the meantime, the prisoners are waiting in the New York prison for the arrival of the extradition papers.

It was learned yesterday from Judge L. E. Weir, attorney for Molera, the deserted husband, that the couple had been unable to secure bail and are being held in the Tombs. Mrs. Molera is being shown some special consideration. It is stated on account of being a woman and formerly prominent in the theatrical world of the United States.

Molera is still unrepentant, insisting on the law taking its course in the punishment of his wife. He is also insistent that their two little girls be given to his care. These children were taken east by their mother and have been living with her and Terramorse in New York, all under assumed names.

Probably the unrepentant spirit of Molera is due to the fact that this is a second bitter experience with women. His first wife deserted him, it was alleged, for a doctor. This happened about seven years ago, when the couple were living at 527 Laurel street, Oakland. Molera secured a divorce on the grounds of intemperance, and then married the present Mrs. Molera, who, in turn, deserted him for Terramorse.

As far as Mrs. Terramorse is concerned, she merely insists that her husband be compelled to support their children. She shrugs her shoulders and says the other woman can have him. She said that the day before the elopement last month Terramorse passed his children in the street without speaking to them.

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1915.

NO. 108.

ONE WEEK MORE TO GREAT DAY OF FUN

One week more to Tribune Day! Just seven days to Alameda county's biggest day of fun. Tuesday, June 15—next Tuesday—is the day The Tribune entertains its readers and friends. FREE, at the county's greatest amusement park. Tribune day this year is to eclipse all similar celebrations of the past—and when one remembers the notable Tribune days that have been held this announcement means much. Every possible feature for the entertainment and comfort of the newspaper's guests will be provided. At the park guests of extra attendants are already preparing for the visit of The Tribune guests. The concessions are being overhauled and unspectacular, the great throng must be handled without crowding or discomfort. The gatekeepers are rehearsing their part, so that there may be the least possible wait in entering the zone of joy. This year's Tribune day will have more attractions than ever before. The park management has pledged it. Manager B. L. York, who expects the greatest crowd in the history of the park, judging from the tickets already given away, declares that the great amusement park will accommodate everybody and that he expects no difficulty in giving every one the best possible time. The park has never fallen down on its pledges and York declares that this year will show it making good in even a more striking manner. The big shows of the park, including the diving horses, the many concessions of the popular amusement place and a dozen other special features will combine in a whirl of joy. Here are the attractions The Tribune day guests will enjoy: CAROUSEL. PEANUTS. CIRCLE SWING. MINIATURE RAILWAY. MOUNTAIN SLIDE. MOVING PICTURES. RAPIDS. SCENIC RAILWAY. TOBOGGAN. RACING COASTER. STATUES. Every guest arriving at the park will be given a special slip containing free coupons to five concessions and will then be ready for the joy visit. The free tickets to the park for Tribune day can be obtained, free for the asking, at a large number of Oakland stores as well as at the main or branch offices of The Tribune. Any man, woman or child asking for these free admission slips will get them. They're absolutely FREE—for the treat on The Tribune and the visit to the park won't cost a cent. The Idora Park Tribune Day is a recognized tradition in Alameda county now, but this year's is to beat all previous affairs in attraction. Remember the date: TUESDAY, JUNE 15. NEXT TUESDAY. Ask for your ticket—and don't forget to be there, for it's not fair to yourself to miss it! In order to reduce any danger of overcrowding to an impossibility the park management has suggested the issuance of three types of tickets. The first type, or morning ticket, will be good until noon; the afternoon type, good until 6 o'clock; and the evening type, good after 6. This will permit the kiddies to enjoy the park in the morning and the grown-ups in the evening, it is expected, although any one, man, woman or child, is welcome all the time. Ask for the type of ticket you want. Remember, there's not a cent to pay. And remember the date: NEXT TUESDAY, JUNE 15. Tickets on free distribution at The Tribune branch and main offices, are also to be had, free for the asking, at the following stores: J. E. Pagade & Sons, Fruits and Vegetables, 5333 Grove street. Quality Grocery Company, 5206 Grove street. T. Rebell, Groceries, Fruits and Vegetables, 3122 Shattuck street. McBroom Bros., Groceries and Delicatessen, 5154 Telegraph avenue. Claremont Candy Parlor, 5110 Telegraph avenue. Standard Hardware Company, 5128 Telegraph avenue. The Claremont Men's Furnishing Goods, 5118 Telegraph avenue. E. O. Cole, Hardware and Furniture, 5020 Telegraph avenue. B. A. Crestello Company, Italian French American Sausage Factory, 4908 Telegraph avenue. Pioneer Grocery, 4899 Telegraph avenue. Notice These Prizes! Offered Tribune Day Every guest at Tribune Day will have an opportunity to win one of three valuable prizes, this feature being one of the principal points of interest in the big entertainment planned by the newspaper for its friends. An automobile, a beautiful piece of furniture, and one of the latest types of hornless phonographs, will be the three gifts offered holders of lucky coupons. Every man, woman and child entering the gates will be given a free coupon bearing a number, and the drawings will be held during the evening in the open-air amphitheater. The Prizes: First Prize—Ford automobile, valued at $500. Offered by The Tribune. Second Prize—Gustav Stickley "Craftsman" easy chair. Offered by Breuer's. Valued at $60. Third Prize—"Favorite" model gramophone, valued at $50. Offered by the Central Phonograph Parlor. The coupons for the drawing will be given away at the gate at the same time the free concession passes are given The Tribune's guests. The prizes, which will be on exhibit in the park, will be there for the winners to claim, if desired, immediately after the drawing. The automobile, of this year's model, will be completely equipped in every detail—the gas tank even full of fuel—and the winner can, if desired, drive it home at once. The chair is one of the most artistic creations of the noted furniture house, and the phonograph is one of the most popular of the Columbia models, playing either Columbia or Victor records.

LOS ANGELES EBELL QUITS FEDERATION

"Political Trickery" Assined as Reason for Secession From Union.

By Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Protesters that "political methods and trickery" are endangering the organization of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, the Ebell Club of this city, one of the largest in the United States, withdrew yesterday from the state organization. The resolution severing the club's connection was carried by an almost unanimous vote. The club, which has a membership of more than 1500, will remain in the general federation. The resolution of withdrawal states that the step is taken because of the action of the federation at the annual convention in San Francisco two weeks ago in refusing to eliminate political influence from its activities and devote more time to discussion of resolutions and amendments on important subjects at the conventions. WILL HEAL BREACH. WOODLAND, June 8.—Mrs. Emily Hoppin, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, when told of the reasons and resolutions completing the breach between the southern body and the state organization, expressed considerable surprise and concern. At the same time she was sanguine that the breach would be healed when the Los Angeles women thoroughly understood the reasons why certain by-law amendments were turned down at the State Federation meeting in San Francisco two weeks ago. "At that meeting," said Mrs. Hoppin, "Mrs. Calvin Hartwell of Pasadena, as chairman of the revision committee, introduced a by-law which would prohibit any woman holding office in a federal, state or public capacity from holding office in the Federation office. The fight against the by-law was led strongly by both northern and southern women, several in the Ebell Club of Los Angeles using strong influence against its adoption. WOULD LOSE LEADERS. "At that time it was strongly urged on the floor of the meeting that to adopt such prohibitive provisions would take from the Federation some of the strongest characters it had honored with leadership. In many instances in this state, for example, the county superintendents of schools are women. Women hold other political offices of prominence throughout the state. These same women are prominent in Federation activities. "I have no doubt that the Ebell Club may reconsider its action when it learns that the defeat of the by-law did not of a necessity mean the converting of the Federation into a political machine. The Federation is not political. Political, as other topics may be discussed in Federation meetings. These discussions have absolutely no significance and are no more than the natural outcome of a desire to keep abreast of the times. "I met several members of the Ebell Club after the meeting in San Francisco, and they seemed to be pleased that the by-law had been voted down. "I received a day or so ago a letter from a member of the Ebell Club in which she stated that they hoped to have me with them in midwinter. "The resolution of withdrawal passed by the Ebell Club is quite a surprise and not to be reconciled with either this letter or the discussions I had with the club members. I am sure, however, that things will be straightened out as soon as the Ebell Club members are acquainted with the facts."

CHILD LABOR CANNIBALISM, SAYS WELFARE LEAGUE HEAD

According to one woman at least, those who profit by child labor are a species of cannibal. Urging California women to spread the campaign against the employment of little children, Mrs. Helen Mabry, supervisor of the Child Labor Bureau, at the Exposition, outlined to the Child's Welfare League yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Oakland their moral obligation toward the oppressed and overworked child. She did not absolve any because of the conditions in this state. "A great many people feel that because no children are employed in their states they are free from responsibility. But they are not," she pointed out. "So long as there are using the things that children have helped to make." Continuing, Mrs. Mabry declared that nearly all the clothing they wore, whether of cotton, wool, silk or linen, had passed through the hands of children; that children of four and five years of age handled all the artificial flowers made in New York, and that no label guaranteed that children did not handle their clothing, though it might assure them that they had not been used in its manufacture. ATTACKS "HOME WORK." Mrs. Mabry especially attacked the "home-work" system in New York, which permits nearly one-third of the men's clothing made in America to be taken into the New York tenements, where, often in the midst of disease, button-holes are finished and bastings taken out. Inspectors, she asserted, had found this work being done by tubercular people, who would not be allowed to work openly in factories. "You people in California can see that it is a menace to public health. It isn't New York's problem any more so long as the goods are transported out of the state where they may endanger the health of the community. Passing on from the Southern cotton mills and Eastern tenements, Mrs. Mabry also spoke of the shrimp and oyster canneries, where "very little children work from 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning till 10 or 11 at night, and in the glass factories of Pennsylvania, where they work 12 hours of the day."

SUFFRAGETTE NEAR ROW IN CHIEF PANS JAPANESE MILITANTS HOUSE

Miss Blackwell Declares Acts Injure Cause of Women Before Congress.

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 8.—Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, of New York, addressing the mid-year conference of the National Woman Suffrage Association here today, said the association suffers from the militant actions of the Congressional Union, for the reasons that politicians do not distinguish between one association and another, but visit their resentment on the suffrage movement generally. "We are making great progress in the South," Miss Blackwell said, "and we will make it faster when it is understood that the Ristow-Mondell bill does not enfranchise women indiscriminately, but only in the same way that Negroes are enfranchised."

Speaker's Chair Rushed by Members: Opposition Suffers Defeat.

By Associated Press. TOKIO, June 8.—The attack of the opposition in the house of representatives today reached a stage which bordered on violence. The opposition was defeated, however, the house rejecting by a vote of 310 to 227 the resolution attacking the cabinet on the ground of interference with the recent general election. The Saikawa, or constitutional party, protested at a ruling of Saburo Shimada, president of the house. The members of this party rushed the speaker's chair and then left the chamber in a body, breaking through the guards when Mr. Shimada ordered them to close the doors. The Kominato, or popular party, remained in the chamber, but declined to vote. The committee was started by the speech of an opposition member, who charged that the government interfered in the election of certain members of the house. GONE ON VACATION. HAYWARD, June 8.—Mrs. John Allen Park has gone to Auburn, Placer county, for a short vacation. She will be gone about a week.

TIRE MEN IN TRAINING JUST LIKE ATHLETES

Use of the word "service" for the next few days in any tire establishment in this city is strictly forbidden. The reason is that the tire men have been selected at least one employee in the tire changing test tomorrow night at the Orpheum and these young men are making the best of the little time remaining to further perfect their condition. Physical preparedness is as necessary for them as it is for any athlete on the eve of a performance. From the audience point of view, the spectacle tomorrow evening at the automobile sessions and theater party of watching a score of youths display their skill in the quickness of tire changing will not only be decidedly interesting but also at times very amusing. Several drawbacks to hinder the chances of the various contestants are likely to occur. Pinching of tubes, and this may happen frequently, is possible, because care in setting the tube within the casing will be forgotten owing to the limited time on each entrant. Difficulty in bringing the inflated tire up to the necessary air limit without resorting to the use of a tire gauge too often will hinder the chances of more than one of the boys. Nervousness will be unknown, for many of the tire experts will be making their first appearance before an assembled crowd. Other difficulties, aggravating enough to beset chances for victory, will serve to make the slight one people will not forget. It was announced that the lower floor had been entirely sold. A few dealers still have tickets remaining. They will be disposed of before noon Wednesday.

Brewer's Kinsman Is Turk Army Leader

By Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Lieutenant Edward Scharrer of the German army, a son-in-law of the late Adolphus Busch, is in command of Turkish troops in one of the forts at the Dardanelles. Lieutenant Scharrer received the Iron Cross in November.

Decree Set Aside, He Has Two Wives

By Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—A decree of absolute divorce granted by the civil district court in New Orleans to the Duke of Massari from his first wife was set aside yesterday by the Louisiana supreme court. After the decree had been obtained, the Duke married Countess Rita Zucconi here. The first wife obtained at her home in Florence, Italy, a decree of separation and the Duke settled upon her and their daughter approximately $150,000, according to his petition in the local court. After meeting the Countess Zucconi here, he applied for the absolute divorce. It was granted, and the first wife attacked it. In setting aside the ruling, the supreme court stated that, as absolute divorce was not provided for in Italian statutes, such decision in the Louisiana courts, based upon the separation decree obtained in Italy, was unlawful, even though the Duke sought a decree ostensibly against himself. The Duke and his second wife are in Italy.

SURVEY NEW ROAD TO SEQUOIA PARK

VISALIA, June 8.—Surveyors of the United States engineering department have started work on the survey of a new road to be built from General Grant Park to Giant Forest in the Sequoia National Park. This road, which will be approximately thirty-two miles in length, will run through what Mark Daniels has called "the Switzerland of America," and will include the most beautiful of the scenery of Kings Canyon. The highway will cost $50,000. Funds have already been appropriated. There is also under construction a new highway by the county from the Three Rivers district to connect with the government highway. A number of round trips by auto from Visalia through Giant Park, Kings River canyon and Sequoia National Park in a single day.

MAY RECOUNT VOTES OF LOS ANGELES ELECTION

By Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, June 8.—It was announced today that a petition for a recount of the votes cast in the election for mayor on June 2, in which Charles E. Sebastian, chief of police, defeated Frederick J. Whiffen, would be presented to the court this week. It was stated the petition would allege fraud in the counting of the ballots. Whiffen, the defeated candidate, denied that he had influenced the movement for a recount. The official canvass of the votes completed by the City Council gives Sebastian 45,453, Whiffen 41,672. This is a loss of eleven votes for Sebastian.

JIM BUTLER ONLY STOCK IN DEMAND

Hesitancy Prevalent on Exchange at Morning Session.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Hesitancy again prevailed on the San Francisco Stock Exchange this morning and orders were small on either side of the market with continued listless. The goldfields were somewhat stronger, with Junco Extension advancing from $1.50 to $1.60 on small sales and Booth again sold up to $60. Merger Mines was firm at $30 and Atlanta was unsold on bids of $25.

There was a continued effort to acquire Jim Butler at $10 and $20 after the shares had changed hands at $50. West End sold at $20 and $10. The advance of the past few days in these stocks appears to have carried them a few points higher than the limit of such buying orders as have been received. The purchasers are believed to be eastern investors. Tonopah, on the other hand, advanced from $2.25 to $2.50, while Sierra Nevada was unchanged at $10 and Ophir at $130.

UNIVERSITY HEAD GIVEN DISMISSAL

Montana Board of Education Refuses to Renew President's Contract.

By Associated Press.
MONTANA, June 8.—The action of the State Board of Education last night in refusing to renew the contract with the University of Montana as president of the University of Montana at the close of his term on September 1, was taken, it was reported here today, in an effort to end a feud that has obtained between the University of Montana and the State Board of Education, which, however, was defeated by referendum vote in the state election last November.

Dr. Craighead's removal came about after charges had been preferred against him before the State Board by J. N. T. Ryan, a member of the University Board of Control, to the effect that Dr. Craighead had threatened members of his faculty with dismissal unless they wrote letters endorsing him and his policy. Dr. Craighead denied the charges and produced a telegram from a score of the faculty members saying that Dr. Craighead had not tried to coerce them, as charged by Ryan. Among those who opposed Dr. Craighead before the board were Governor S. V. Stewart and Attorney General Foxworth. State Superintendent H. A. Davis supported Dr. Craighead.

DECISION RENDERED ON SEIZURE OF WHISKY

By Associated Press.
DOUGLAS, Ark., June 8.—A decision holding that whisky shipped into the state may be seized by officers without search warrants was rendered by Judge J. M. McCallister in the Superior Court at Tombstone. The court based its decision on the ground of public policy.

Two trunks filled with bottled whisky were withheld from John Sower, the alleged owner, because of a violation of the state law in bringing the liquor from Texas. A federal law also was violated, the court held, in failing to label the trunks with the true contents and the name of the consignee.

CROSS CADETS HOP "Quality Street" Has New Charm Spell Is Cast by Maude Adams

'BRITH ABRAHAM ORDER TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

East Shore Park at Stege will be the scene of the second annual picnic of the members of the Order of 'Brith Abraham next Sunday. L. A. White is chairman of the committee of arrangements. The other members are: J. Lubliner, secretary; J. Lustig, C. Gold, A. Emanuel, I. Shapiro, J. Cohn, E. Stein and F. Bernardo.

One feels a flash of afternoon tea to the head and a stern desire for chocolate cream, during much of "Quality Street." Indeed, there were times, last night—Maude Adams had brought Barrie to the Madonnas—when a matinee dizziness swept over the system. This was no play for night's shade and strong men.

Not it was night, and the strong man in the third row, able, like his rose, drew tears. The woman in the auditorium of St. James. A soldier may meet with him and retain the commission. He is a woman's playmate-for men. And she—Miss Adams—a woman's actress who has made America a male theater—few more or less joyful for several and more years.

BARTON GREETED FRIENDS.
"Quality Street" had another interest last night for Oakland theatergoers besides that interest in the play. An old friend greeted them, when William Barton, former society actor, made his first bow here in the role of professional actor.

Barton's rise has been rapid. (Clerk to New York, unknown, he was at once received by the Frumkin forces, and quickly rose in his profession, playing several important parts before joining Miss Adams' company. Barton's acting is clean-cut and artistic—and, say his managers, bids fair to soon shine on Broadway, by himself. A conscientious student, he imports even to small roles an artistry that renders them important.

"Quality Street" advances the tale of a love affair that blossomed in the hearts of Phoebe Thersell and one Valentine Brown. It speaks of a lady Capricious, and Valentine's return to find his Phoebe prim and old-maidish, with youth hidden and sadness rampant. How Cupid spurs himself to action and times two hearts to beating in unison, may be discovered by those who like Barrie much and Maude Adams more.

There are long stretches of "Quality Street" that might have been set down by any number of playwrights. A sweet-spirited pen and a disposition to use sparingly of ink would have achieved the same result. Barrie is not Barrie, all evening. Every human are his people—mind you that—but not always with that quaintness which marked the plays that

FATALLY HURT WHEN AUTOMOBILE SKIDS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Sliding over an embankment and overturning after a drop of eight feet, an automobile driven by George Merrell brought injury to its occupants at Farallone, a mile north of Moss Beach last evening. The occupants of the machine are residents of San Francisco, but it was not possible to secure the names of the entire party. That death will claim some of the victims is the statement of attending surgeons.

19-YEAR-OLD BOYS IN PRISON FOR BURGLARY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—John Dalrymple, blacksmith, and James O'Rourke, baker, two 19-year-old boys, are locked up in the city prison this morning as the result of a night raid on the grocery of Henry Wreden of 824 Geary street. Their fondness for good cigars and their desire to prevent generous help of candy to their respective sweethearts are responsible for their plight.

Patrolman Brosman was walking along Geary street when he met O'Rourke near the corner of Leavenworth. The young man was acting suspiciously and the officer, searching him, found some cigars and some cigarettes. He hustled him to the Bush street station and then accompanied by Patrolman Jackson, returned to the scene. He found that Wreden's store had been broken open with the aid of a pin used on the rear door. In a vacant lot, hiding behind some rubbish, they found Dalrymple. He had filled a basket with candy and cigars. Both young men were booked for burglary and their loot is held as evidence against them.

LARGER FIELD FOR ADVENT COLLEGES

Advanced Work Is Planned by Heads of Church: Many Papers Presented.

PACIFIC UNION COLLEGE, ST. HELENA, Cal., June 8.—Establishment of a curriculum at one of the leading Seventh-Day Adventist colleges will be a reality in the near future, according to the heads of the church, who are planning to advance the college work in a paper delivered before the educational conference of the North American division of the Seventh-Day Adventist church, in session here today.

Adventist colleges now are giving thorough courses. Pacific Union college includes in its curriculum biblical, scientific and literary studies, higher mathematics, physics and astronomy, New Testament Greek and Latin, modern languages, philosophy and English history, Bible history, prophecy and doctrine, shorthand and typewriting, bookkeeping, art, architectural drawing, violin and orchestra work, and the manual arts, including penmanship, printing, photography, bookbinding, mechanics, agriculture, household economy, sewing and hydrotherapy.

However, Professor Griggs thinks one of the colleges should be equipped to give advanced work. The organization of the young people's branch of the denomination grew from 13,000 in 1913 to 18,500 in 1914, according to figures given by M. E. Kern, elder Kern is secretary of the young people's department for the world, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. In the last year from 1907 to 1913 the young people gave away $2,182 articles of clothing, as against $6,000 in the year and a half from July 1, 1913, to December 31, 1914. Their offerings for home missions jumped from $28,217.43 for six years to $16,500.73 for 18 months, and the foreign mission offerings from $53,851.25 for six years to $33,225.35 for 18 months.

In 18 months they held Bible readings and cottage meetings numbering 69,118. These figures do not include any of the work done by church members aside from the youth.

"Characteristics of Adolescent Life and Methods of Winning Young People" was the subject of a paper by C. L. Benson, other papers and addresses were: "The Call to Teaching," L. H. Evans, president of the North American division conference; "Junior Life and How to Win Juniors," Katherine B. Hale; "Teacher Efficiency," Frederick Griggs; "Relation of Schools to Their Constituents," E. F. Andrews of Los Angeles, president Pacific Union conference; "How to Increase Our School Attendance," W. W. Riddle, "Camp Meeting Work," Meade MacGuire of Loveland, Colorado, young people's field secretary for North America; "Recreation at Camp Meeting," U. S. Sprout of Santa Rosa, young people's secretary for Northwestern California. President Andrews spoke of efforts already made in California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona to affiliate and unify all Adventist schools.

TRAMP IS TRAVELING SAFE.

KINDER, La., June 8.—The Kinder constable arrested here Walter Sullivan, typical "American tramp," carrying a kitchen cabinet under his shabby overcoat, which contained the following articles: Eight large raw potatoes, weighing seven pounds; one quart bottle of sweet milk, one ten-cent loaf of wheat bread, one-half dozen tea biscuits, one-half dozen Saturday coffee, two one-pound packages of rolls, two aluminum salt and pepper shakers, glass cruet filled with vinegar, one raw onion and two Japanese paper napkins.

CITY MAY COLLECT JITNEY BUS BALANCE

City Attorney Ben F. Woolner has filed a formal opinion with the City Council that the city may collect the balance of $55 due on the jitney bus licenses for which $5 was paid by the drivers under the old city ordinance. The license fee was increased to $60 a year by the ordinance recently ratified by the voters, and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company pointed out to the City Council that the difference between this amount and that paid under the old ordinance ought to be paid by the licensees. Woolner has held that this view is correct. The matter was put over by the council to see whether the city could sue for the balance. The action of the council was formal, as all their stock was held by the Southern Pacific Company.

CASE TO CONTINUE.

The trial of George F. Lynch, accused of aiding in fraudulent voting at the primary election last August, and which had been set for today, has been continued until June 14, at which time the case will go on. It will be the second trial of the accused, the first having ended in disagreement of the jury.

Will Not Try Case on Alameda Co. Day

Members of a jury called in Superior Judge Wastie's court in the case of Miss Grummett against Owen Paul over an auto accident reminded Judge Wastie that Thursday is Alameda County Day at the Exposition, when, without thinking, the court continued the case until that date for trial. A multi-plot resulted in the date being postponed for two weeks and the case will come to the big show.
